Oct. 10, 1795. Hincea Killebrew of Jones Co., NC and John Giles of Lenoir Co., NC...James Iredell and wife Hannah, Samuel Tredwell and wife Hellen, Margaret Hosmer, widow, all of Chowan Co., Edenton, NC, sold to Killebrew and Giles for 2,600 pounds of which 470 pounds has been paid, and we, Killebrew and Giles now mortgage that land which was granted to William Gray, Dec. 2, 1735, which tract contains 2000 acres on south side of Trent called Tuckahoe meadow in Craven Co., NC, which land was conveyed to Gabriel Johnson by said William Gray, July 8, 1736, and Gabriel Johnston conveyed by deed to his brother, Samuel Johnston, May 4, 1739 (since deceased) who was father to Hannah Iredell and grandfather of Hellen Tredwell and of Margaret Hosmer. 320 acres of this land was deeded to John Herriage by Jean Blair and Hannah and James Iredell Mar. 24, 1784, although neither deed nor copy thereof is present, and also 500 acres deeded by 2nd deed from said parties in controversy over lands on Mar. 24, 1784, tho deed is not here available...therefore that which remains was that which was deeded to John Franck and Edward Franck, surviving sons of John Franck and John, son of Wickliff Franck, deceased son of John Franck, thru the controversy over 1288 acres which was claimed to be included in a patent for 5575 acres as was the 2000 acres above mentioned. Also 320 acres in Jones Co. granted to Samuel Johnston the elder, May 17, 1754, excepting that 276 acres supposed to be of this 320 but is thought to be of the Fancks and Herriages lands...All land clear is herein mortgaged to secure payment by Deed Bk H pg. 80-88/ Oct. 10, 1795 James Iredell of Edenton, NC one of the associate Justices of the Superior court of US, and wife Hannah. Samuel Tredwell, collector of customs for district of Edenton and wife Hellen. Margaret Hosmer, widow, of Edenton, NC...deed to Hinchley Killebrew of Jones Co., NC and John Giles of Lenoir Co., NC. for 2600 pounds all the land we are entitled to in the following tracts. 200 acres in Craven Co., NC patented by William Gray, Dec. 2, 1735, and deeded to Gabriel Johnston, Gov. of NC July 8, 1736, who conveyed to his brother Samuel Johnston on May 4, 1739, located on S. side of Trent River commonly called Tuckahoe Meadows. Samuel Johnston, deceased, was father of Hannah Iredell, grandfather of Helen Tredwell, daughter of Jean Blair, daughter of Samuel Johnston deceased, and Margaret Hosmer, another daughter of Jean Blair, and granddaughter of Samuel Johnston. Hannah Iredell, also a daughter of Samuel Johnston, deceased, deeded her share, 320 acres, to John Herritage, March 24, 1784, on Reedy B ranch adjoining land of William Brown, John Sanders, Trent river. There was a disagreement between Johnston heirs and Franck heirs over division of land in 1784. Certain acreage was given to John and Edward Franck and John, son of Wickliffe Franck, deceased. They were sons of John Franck, the elder, deceased,.....Samuel Johnston, Sr. made his Will Nov. 13, 1756, leaving land to his son, Samuel Johnston, to his daughters Jean, Penelope, Izabella, Ann and Hannah. Jean married a Blair and died Mar. 10, 1789 willing her part of lands to her two daughters, Helen who married Samuel Tredwell, and Margaret who married a Hosmer and is now a widow. Penelope married Alexander Stewart and died without issue and her husband is long since dead. Izabella and Ann both died unmarried. The last one dieing in 1775. Therefore Hannah Iredell and the daughters of her sister, Jean Blair, are the sole surviving heirs of the land now sold to Hinchey Killdbrew.

Deed Bk H pg 138-140/ Feb. 5, 1796 Hinchey Killebrew to John Jarman for 345 pds. 150 acres he bought of James and Hannah Iredell, Samuel and Helen Tredwell, Margaret Hosmer, as heirs of Samuel Johnston, and of heirs of Martin Franck, on S. side of Tuckahoe Creek. Wts: Reuben Jarman, Thomas Alphin.

Reuben Treadwell served in the Rev. War from NC. I was not able to find him connected with a county; but he must be the one listed by the MS DAR that I sent you.

Samuel Treadwell served as a Marine from SC during the Rev. I wonder if he is the Samuel who's Craven Co. marriage I sent you; or if there is another Samuel floating around in either SC or NC. I also see clues where the Treadwell's might have come down from N.Y. We really need to get that article; especially since Thomas Treadwell of N.Y. is mentioned in an early Edenton, NC newspaper at the same time Samuel Treadwell is. It might be that he was Samuel's brother who returned to N.Y. At least it needs to be checked out.

Dear Pat,

I've been so tangled up in Tradewells (my family's spelling) and all their wanderings and repetition of names! Now I'm activating separate tangles - primarily acknowledging in the accompanying letter your response to my query in the Nat'l Genealogical Society publication. I read your letter through so hastily when it came I passed right over your reference to "Family Puzzler" in my hurry to pounce on "the gold". It was easy to jump to the NGS conclusion because your letter arrived days before my copy of FP arrived! I didn't even know it had been printed!

A million thanks for all the data you sent on! I will definitely explore the Andrea collection next time I'm at the DAR Library in Washington. I've used it before, but that's when I was glued to my father's Taylor family history in Kentucky and wasn't checking on mother's South Carolina lineage. Also will follow your guidance re NC Archives when I'm right there. You have data from counties that I'd never heard of before. Nor have I run across Hartsfield/Heartsfield, but will be on the look out.

One bit of information that came in looks fairly solid for directing Reuben's parentage away from the Adoniram/John line to Jacob T. of Stratfield CT. I received a copy of a letter from my great-grandfather's brother stating that their grandfather Reuben was the youngest of three brothers, Samuel, John and Reuben who came south via Pennsylvania and Virginia to South Carolina. That's a pretty specific match to Jacob's family. SC would fit Reuben's supposed service with the Swamp Foxes prior to joining the NC militia and line as verified by pension records, and later his death verified in Rutherford Co NC. The Benjamin you found in records doesn't match mine who lived 1781-1843, after the land deals you cited.

Altogether, you gave me a lot of lines to hang on to and something in there might be a lot more valid than the Jacob connection. I've obviously been most fortunate in most of my family research which is straightforward and complicated compared to Reuben-where-did-he-come-from?

Thanks so much for your help - I'll surely stay in touch and hope you will if we turn up anything new. I like your family card! What a good idea!

*Sincerely,
Judy Pringley*

Dear Treadwell/Tradewell "Cousins"!

How I wish I had you all together here at home-on-the-mountain on this peaceful, quiet, rainy, cool day! We might not come up with answers, but we'd generate a lot of possibilities about the Tr'-wells! Since we're all wandering the same track with varying degrees of urgency, I'm thankful at least that I'm lost with such amiable, interested and interesting companions.

I have been too long in responding to most of you; blame it on summer visits to and from children and grandchildren, plus the very exciting acquisition of 600 photocopied pages of a Confederate diary dealing with another branch of my family tree. I'm doing a typescript for the donor and myself and sometimes "live" that more than my real life.

But... to the Tr'wells: I am so very grateful for the time and attention in your responses to my NGS query. This week the same query was published in a weekly newsletter, "Family Puzzler". Do any of you subscribe to it? My three previous contacts via FP have produced great response so I'm eager to see what new or confirming T'well data may show up, even if to confuse me more.

Since I'm new to this "networking", I wonder if any of you have been in touch? I will certainly keep your names and data at hand and pass on anything that comes my way regarding your lines. I hope you will do the same for me. I'll be glad of course to pay copying and mailing costs as needed.

The folks I've heard from, in alphabetical order, are on the left. The "votes" for possible father of Reuben, also in alphabetical order with no implied connection to the name opposite, are on the right:

Judy Crenshaw of Michigan City MS
Pat Edwards of Purvis MS
John Taft of Falls Church VA
Kenneth Treadwell of Pittsburgh PA
Mattie Treadwell of Houston TX

Adoniram Sr b. ca1700
Adoniram Jr
Gilead
Jacob
John b.1705

With each suggested progenitor was logical rationale based on dates, locations and pattern of names before and after. All were suggested possibilities and not claimed as "gospel". I surely am not equipped to argue with or endorse any, only to thank you again for your input. Most of you told me of sources you'd tried with no help and/or suggested likely sources of information. If you have anything to add to either of those categories, please use the enclosed post card. Between the last week of September and the end of October I expect to have two trips through VA, NC, SC and especially plan a stop at NC Archives in Raleigh.

*Best Wishes,
Judy Pringle*
